

OBJECTIF

Cooking has been my passion since my childhood and I have mastered cooking different types of hot and cold starters and desserts from different countries around the world.

In charge of a cooker position in several hotels for 8 years, I have learned to constantly adapt to the civilizations and cultures of the different countries of the world.

I am looking to join your company in order to share with you my knowledge and my passion for cooking.

I remain at your disposal for a possible interview.
