About Me

I started sailing quite late, but I got up very fast because the machineries were familiar to me and I have always handed over my equipment in better condition than I have received it. For five and a half years I worked as a steam generator operator at TPP Varna. Before that I worked as a fitter for many years. In parallel, I had a small workshop where I repaired cars in my spare time. I graduated from the Naval Academy in 1996 with a Master's degree in Applied Geophysics and in 2011 I graduated from the Technical University with a Master's Marine Engineering degree. My high school education was in heating and refrigeration equipment.
