

CURRICULUM VITAE

Professional Profile:

- Professional attitude marked by strong self – discipline and high productivity
- Experience in sea and coastal navigation and dry cargo handling operations
- Navigational, safety and cargo officer
- Flexibility and adaptability to tasks/assignments
- Ability to make decisions and take action in new and crisis situations
- Background with emphasis on seniority respect and safety work procedures

Position Applied for:

C/O on a BC or G/C vessel

Reasons for company change and following unemployment:

I have neither been looking after a terminally ill family member nor have I decided to change the sea for an easier shore job. Meanwhile I did work ashore; not because I had planned to but because I had to.

Having decided on my own to quit Ribex Maritime, I wanted to work for a foreign one, with a greater number of and more reliable vessels. Unfortunately nobody paid serious attention to this intention. Only Enzian Ship Management did, but they failed to keep the C/O contract they signed with me in June 2017 at the very last moment - I had slipped through a net as they explained later.

After 16.09.2022, when we understood that my father was ill, I stopped looking for a job at sea. But he has been responding well to the treatment, so I decided to sail again.

Regarding my latest contract on m/v” Mia Maria”, everything ran smoothly there, both with the crew and ship operation. The only problem was that neither the term of this temporary 2 - month contract nor the tiny size of the vessel suited my needs. I would like to sail permanently on a bigger one, preferably a handysize B/C, and to sign this time a normal 3 – 5 month - contract from the start. This, at very least, would save me similar boring explanations later, should I have to look for a new company again.
